Winning games is not our first priority in the NGS House League, although, we do want to maintain a competitive edge, our main priorities are the safety and enjoyment of everyone involved and the physical and emotional development of our players. All of our coaches and parents must realize that they are role models for the players and must exhibit positive, supportive and professional behavior at all times. All coaches must read and agree to our code of conduct, located on our website. All coaches must schedule and adhere to a practice time of at least once a week and equalize playing time, positional requirements and inclusion in games for every player according to our rules. All head coaches are responsible for the behavior and actions of themselves, their co-coaches, players and fans. All coaches must sign this agreement and submit to a background check prior to the season.
